

Nollenberger Capital Partners Welcomes David Hayes to its Advisory Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21, 2009 – Nollenberger Capital Partners, Inc. (NCPI), a privately held investment banking and investment advisory firm, today announced that David Hayes has joined its Advisory Committee. Mr. Hayes has over 20 years of experience in commercial real estate services, and is a founder of Skyline Construction.

“David’s vast experience in commercial real estate services is a significant addition to the advisory committee,” said Bruce Nollenberger, President and CEO of Nollenberger Capital Partners. “Skyline Construction is an industry leader in Green Construction Services, along with Data Center and Building Infrastructure projects, and is listed as one of the top 25 General Contractors in San Francisco.”

In 2004 Mr. Hayes assumed the role of CEO of Skyline Construction and shifted the company's focus from landlord build outs to tenant improvement work and data center construction. In 2005 he restructured Skyline as a 100% employee stock ownership plan (ESOP) and established a system of open book management, virtually unheard of in the construction industry. The result is an ownership culture where employees are vested in the success of every project, leading to partnerships with top-tier clients such as McKesson, Google, Jamba Juice, Sharper Image, Bank of America, Wells Fargo and Wachovia.

Mr. Hayes was previously a director of operations for American Building Maintenance (ABM) and currently oversees operations in Skyline's San Francisco and Santa Clara offices. In his role as CEO, he develops and maintains client relationships, is responsible for strategic planning and personnel decisions, and implements Skyline's quality assurance and employee-training programs.

In addition to coordinating Skyline's extensive community and charitable involvement, Mr. Hayes serves as a board member for BOMA (Building Owners and Managers Association of San Francisco). He is also involved with Junior Achievement of the Bay Area, ALS Bob Packard Cup and The Alliance of CEOs.
